1. Applicant's election of Group I in the reply filed on 7-08-05 is acknowledged.

Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

2. Claims 7-24 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 7-08-05.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is unclear where the Co layer in claim is in relation to the substrate, diamond and bonding layer, rendering claim indefinite.

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-2,4,6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cerutti et al (5,273,557) or Fuller et al (4,919,220).

Cerutti et al or Fuller et al disclose the claimed diamond layer attached to a cemented carbide through the claimed bonding layer of the claimed components.

7. Claims 1,4,6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cho et al (5,151,107) or General Electric (EP 402 671).

Cho et al or General Electric discloses the claimed diamond layer attached to a cemented carbide through the claimed bonding layer of the claimed components.

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cerutti et al or Cho et al or Fuller et al or General Electric (as before) in view of Natl Ins for Res in Inorg Mater (JP 04-114966 or JP 04-074766).

Cerutti et al or Cho et al or Fuller et al or General Electric disclose the invention substantially as claimed except for the claimed material used in the diamond layer.

Art Unit: 1775

Natl Ins for Res in Inorg Mater discloses the use of the claimed material in a diamond material.

Thus it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the claimed material in the diamond layers of Cerutti et al or Cho et al or Fuller et al or General Electric, as these materials are known in the art to improve the performance of the diamond layer as shown by Natl Ins for Res in Inorg Mater.
